Earth Day

Poem - Earth, so special

Earth is a planet where we live, we get so much oxygen free.

The nature nurture us a lot, but we have no time to take their care.

Having the Earth is already a blessing, then why you treat her like nothing.

Let's celebrate a Earth Day all together, to make her feel that she is special.

Poetry

★ TOPIC = ABOUT OUR Mother Earth.

EARTH REMEMBERS YOU

- You left footprints in her mud as a child, she remembers, even after the city poured concrete over her body.
- Her rivers burn with fever now, her breath is smoke, still, she gives you sunsets, & asks nothing back.
- We keep saying "Later"
- "Later" took the fireflies.
- "Later" is taking the bees.
- The earth will be fine, "YOU KNOW",..... with or without us, she survived asteroids, she'll survive us. The question is whether we survive on our own?
- The earth isn't a "planet", she's our mother earth, she's the breath we all share, she's the one who helped you to walk.
- And you're still destroying our "mother" earth, as her child, we need to take the responsibility of her.

Happy Earth's Day
